New Zealand – Fiji Service

Dear Valued Customers,

Whilst we continue to operate in a challenging environment, we remain steadfast in our commitment to delivering a reliable liner shipping network for the South Pacific. NPDL are in the process of finalizing a revision of services connecting New Zealand to Fiji.

NPDL are locally based with a broad agency network throughout the South Pacific. This gives us an acute understanding of the need for regular connections to and from the Pacific Nations we serve. Our commitment to the people of the South Pacific has been evident for decades and remains at the heart of what we stand for.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your ongoing support. We appreciate the need for certainty in your supply chains and will update our forward schedules as soon as possible.

Should you have any further questions or queries please contact your NPDL representative.

Sincerely,
NPDL
