Capitaine Tasman v62

Dear Valued Customers,

We regret to advise you that the Capitaine Tasman v.62 has experienced technical issues and poor weather conditions on her departure from Auckland. The vessel is returning to Auckland to complete repairs before proceeding on her regular rotation.

The Capitaine Tasman's forward schedule has factored in delays anticipated by Cyclone Cody bearing down on New Zealand, although this remains an unpredictable weather system. All efforts will be made for a departure within the week, noting however this is subject to weather and sea conditions. Safe passage of our crew and our customers cargo remains paramount to our operations.

Below the updated schedule:

Port	ETA	ETD
Auckland		15-Jan
Suva	20-Jan	22-Jan
Lautoka	22-Jan	24-Jan
Tauranga	28-Jan

We will update on the progress of repair work and any weather impacted delays when further information is available.

We regret the unexpected delay to your cargo and thank you for your support. Should you have any further questions or queries please contact your NPD L representative.

Yours sincerely,

NPD L
